KENTUCKY'S WOES AIRED IN COURT

thing on my account. There was a question about the legality of some claims allowed in my department."

A DENIAL.
Culton was asked if he had not been indicted for forgery in Jackson county. He answered that he was indicted for the technical offense of signing another man's name to a petition for the building of a new court house. Witness was asked about visiting Colonel Campbell and others of the prosecution. He denied that he had been promised immunity.

In becoming a witness in the Powers case he was following the advice of his father, Judge Culton. Mr. Owens asked how it happened that the witness, although in jail at Frankfort, is here merely under guard. Culton said the commonwealth consented that he might remain under guard appointed.

A COLLOQUY.
A colloquy followed, the defense attempting to show intimacy between Culton and the prosecution, and that a discrimination was being made between Culton and the other defendants.

A number of questions were asked by the defense to show that Culton's evidence now is at variance with that given in his application for bail at Frankfort.

During the severe fire of interrogatories on cross-examination of Culton, the defendant Powers sat with his eyes riveted on the witness.

EX-GOVERNOR BRADLEY.

Culton was asked to again relate the conversation between him and ex-Governor Bradley regarding a report that Goebel was to be killed. Culton said Bradley told him he understood twelve men had been picked for that purpose, and said:

"That must not be done under any circumstances." Culton was asked if Powers did not come to him after the assassination and ask him if he knew anything that would lead to the discovery of the assassin. Witness could not recall such a conversation. Culton concluded the testimony at 2:30, having been in the witness box a total of over seven hours.

OTHER WITNESSES.

Silas Jones, of Whiteley county, who went with the mountaineers to Frankfort and remained there till after the assassination, said he was in the executive building when the shooting occurred. The shots sounded to him from the Secretary of State's office. Prior to the shooting, witness said he was in Taylor's office. The Governor asked him why he was not in the house lobby. Witness replied that he did not want to go up there, as he was without arms, and said I had as well go home.

George G. Fitter, of Louisville, testified that he was entering the State House yard when Goebel was shot. He could not tell where the first shot was fired from, but was positive the subsequent shots were fired inside the main hallway of the Executive building.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS.

HOLD CONVENTION TO NOMINATE STATE TICKET.
(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Lexington, Ky., July 19.—Delegations to the Democratic State Convention met by districts this morning to select members of the committees of the convention.

The Beckham men claimed to have organized at least seven of the eleven Congressional districts, with two in doubt. Their most notable work was in the Seventh District, where Senator Blackburn was defeated for member of the committee on resolutions. The Senator has been chairman of this committee many years.
A portrait of the late Governor Goebel, hanging over the platform, was unveiled and caused an enthusiastic demonstration.

Chairman Young, of the State Central Committee, called the convention to order at 2 o'clock. Judge J. E. Rob-

WANTED TOO MUCH

Government Authorities Refuse School Trustees' Request.

Would Probably Have Given Enough to Build a School House on Marine Railway Repaired—Negro Thought to Be Randall Butts' Assailant Sent to Jail.

Since the school trustees of the Berkeley graded school were not content with asking Lucia Sam for enough of his property on the St. Helena plat for a public school site, it is not likely that they will secure it now at all. It was understood that the authorities at Washington thought of their request favorably and referred it to the Norfolk Navy Yard authorities for their approval, which they would have done, but when the committee was heard by the authorities here it wanted six acres—enough for a school site and a park—and Uncle Sam kicked, because he wanted the land for a park for his own boys. The request has received a black eye by the navy yard officials here.

MARINE RAILWAY REPAIRED.
The main chain of his railway that parted Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. J. C. Colonna attempted to haul the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk's steamer, Pennsylvania, was repaired yesterday, and the portion of the cradle that was carried away was placed in position, and he will attempt to haul the steamer again this morning at 4 o'clock. Mr. Colonna feels bins and R. Frank Peake were presented for temporary chairman.

Attorney-General Breckinridge, in presenting the name of Peake, referred to the troubles in Kentucky, and there were cries of "hurrah for Goebel," and repeated demonstrations for the dead leader. There were disputes as to the announcements of the votes, and finally Chairman Young ruled against the unit rule. He declared that a delegate could vote as he saw fit, regardless of unit rules or other instructions. Before the ballot was completed it was evident that Judge Robbins was the winner, but the Peake men continued to vote. Before the result of the ballot was announced, but not until all the 13 counties had been called, the name of Peake was withdrawn and Robbins was selected as chairman by acclamation.

The actual ballot was: Robbins, 640; Peake, 426. This result was greeted with a great demonstration by the Beckham men.

Judge Robbins was escorted to the platform and spoke at some length. Colonel Peake, who was chairman of the committee that escorted Judge Robbins to the platform and introduced the chairman, also spoke at length.

Judge Robbins, in addressing the convention, paid a high tribute to Goebel and reviewed the contests and conflicts of the past year. He insisted that assassination and civil liberty were the issues in the pending campaign, and charged ex-Governor Taylor and his associates in their short administration with complicity in the murder of Goebel.

Mr. Peake made a vigorous speech on pending National issues and incidentally on "usurpation and assassination in State affairs." He spoke longer than Judge Robbins and created quite a stir by his argument in favor of the immediate modification of the Goebel election law. He said he would personally prefer returning to the old Kentucky system of viva voce voting, but that the popular sentiment seemed to call for a non-partisan system of elections, and to this prevailing opinion he should be given if the party were to be reunited and restored to power.

After the usual committees had been appointed the convention took a recess until 8:30 p. m.

NIGHT SESSION.

On re-assembling a motion to refer all resolutions to the committee on resolutions was tabled. This motion usually prevails without opposition, but it was tabled because of the sentiment among the delegates regarding the proposed modification of the Goebel election law, and a disposition to add some resolutions to the report of the committee on platform if that report were not satisfactory.

While the convention was waiting for the committee on resolutions, addresses were made by Olie James, Willard Mitchell, John C. Bolen and ex-Governor McCreary.
Every effort to adjourn was yelled down, although it was announced that neither the committee on credentials, nor the one on resolutions would report to-night.
The speaking continued until toward midnight.

pretty confident that his attempt today will be successful.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.

John Stiff and John Coleman, the two negroes who were arrested on suspicion of being Randall Butts' assailants last Monday night, when that person was beaten into unconsciousness and robbed of $25 on Liberty street, were committed for ten days yesterday morning by Mayor Keeling to await further developments in the case.

When Butts regained consciousness Wednesday afternoon the description he gave of his assailants and would-be murderers led to the arrest of the two whose names are above given. The officers are looking for one or two more. Butts' condition was much improved yesterday and his recovery is probable.
